

Geography Knowledge Organiser

Rebuilding Britain

I already know:

- Physical features are all natural. They would be here even if there were no people around. Physical features could be seas, mountains and rivers.
- Human features are geographical features of a place that people have built. Human features could be houses, roads, bridges and the population.
- A landmark is an object or a feature of a landscape or town that is very important and makes a place easily recognisable.

Key Vocabulary:

city	a large settlement with a population of hundreds of thousands of people
community	a group of people living in the same place
hamlet	a very small settlement with a population of less than a hundred people isolated dwelling	a settlement containing only one or two houses land use	the function of land and how it is used population	all the inhabitants of a particular place
settlement	a place, typically one which has previously been uninhabited, where people establish a community settler	a person who moves with a group of others to live in a new country or area

I will learn:

- Land in the U.K. is limited. We have a number of different land uses throughout Urban and Rural areas of the U.K. 90% of land in the U.K is Rural.
- Settlements can be different types and sizes but they all need a number of essential features in order for people to live there. These include shelter, food, water, fuel and healthcare. They may also have desirable features like leisure activities.
- The U.K. and the world continues to grow, most rapidly in the last 50 years. Every 10 years, the U.K. hold a census. This is a number of questions that is sent to every household.

Land Uses

